

Government Schemes for Autism & Disability

Complete Guide for Indian Families — Free Benefits Worth ₹1.5 Lakh+

UDID Card

Cost: FREE

Website: swavlambancard.gov.in

Unique Disability Identity Card — gateway to ALL government benefits. Apply online. Requires: Diagnosis report + Aadhar + Photo. Takes 4-8 weeks.

Documents Required:

- UDID Disability Certificate (40%+ disability for most benefits)
- Proof of diagnosis from a government hospital doctor
- Aadhar card of child + parent
- Passport-size photograph

Niramaya Insurance

Cost: ₹250-500/year

Website: nationaltrust.gov.in

Health insurance of ₹1 lakh per year for autism, cerebral palsy, mental retardation and multiple disabilities. Covers hospitalisation, therapy, medicines.

Documents Required:

- Valid UDID card
- Age: 0-65 years
- Apply at National Trust district office or online

ADIP Scheme

Cost: FREE

Website: alimco.in

Free assistive devices — communication devices, wheelchairs, hearing aids, tricycles. For people with disability, income below ₹20,000/month.

Documents Required:

- UDID certificate
- Income certificate
- Apply at ALIMCO assessment camps (held in cities)

Section 80DD Tax Benefit

Cost: ₹75,000-1,25,000 deduction

Website: incometax.gov.in

Tax deduction for expenses of a disabled dependent. Standard deduction OR actual expenses. Both options available.

Documents Required:

- Disability certificate of dependent
- LIC policy or FD for disabled dependent
- No need to prove actual expenses for flat deduction
- Claim in ITR under 80DD

Railway Concession

Cost: 75% discount

Website: Indian Railways

75% concession on all train classes for autistic children and one escort. Available on presentation of disability certificate.

Documents Required:

- Medical Certificate from Railway Medical Officer OR UDID card

- Concession form available at railway booking counter
- Valid on all train types except Rajdhani/Shatabdi (50% on these)

Step 1 — Get Your UDID Card First!

ALL other schemes require the UDID card. Visit swavlambancard.gov.in to apply. Go to a government hospital to get your child assessed. This is completely FREE.